Attacking German Forces Are Mown Down

Field Grey Waves in Violent Attack Cut Down in Swaths by British Artillery Fire

Spite of Heavy Losses, Enemy Gains Footing In Famous Roex Chemical Works, But Are All Thrown Back Again by British Counter Attack After Terrible Punishment.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 16.—The launching of a German infantry attack against Roex this morning in great strength, the evident hope of recapturing the position, is reported by the Reuter correspondent at British headquarters in France.

"When the field grey waves swept forward from the position of Plouvain they were met by a whirlwind of machine gun and rifle fire as well as artillery fire," writes the correspondent. "They were mown down in swaths, continued to advance despite their losses in a manner indicating that picked troops were being employed."

The British artillery made the hillside look like a mushroom, bulks of shell smoke sprouting up thickly over the entire field. Machine guns streamed nickled missiles into the enemy ranks on front and in the flanks.

Rebound Was Instantaneous.
Sheer weight and momentum carried the Germans beyond the trench outposts and even into the chemical works themselves, but, as a rubber ball, the rebound was instantaneous, and swiftly the enemy was struck. After a short and hard fight the enemy was driven back with heavy losses, leaving the British established more firmly than ever.

The fighting continued about Bullecourt, and a German partial success recently won there was wiped out.
In the meantime the British strengthened their positions eastward toward Roex and drew a mile closer to Lens. Here the British continued their work of wrecking the district. Buildings being blown up and machinery is being destroyed in order that great mining centre shall not furnish the slightest benefit to allies when the Germans are finally forced to let go.

"Exceptionally Heavy Losses."
LONDON, May 16.—"Exceptionally heavy losses," were inflicted on German troops which today were sent against the British between Gavelle and the Scarpe River, according to the official report from British headquarters in France tonight. The British advanced posts were forced back by the Germans, but the latter were driven out of the ground they had gained almost immediately. The text reads:

"After a heavy bombardment of our trenches on both banks of the Scarpe, the enemy launched a powerful counter attack this morning on the bank between Gavelle and the river. His troops pressed forward in a destructive fire from our artillery and machine guns. For a short time, by weight of numbers, the enemy forced back our advanced troops to their forward positions. Our counter attack, however, immediately checked, regained all the ground temporarily lost, driving back the enemy inflicting exceptionally heavy losses. A number of prisoners remained in our hands."

"Our troops made progress during the day in the Hindenburg Line east of Bullecourt. A hostile raiding party was successfully repulsed morning southeast of Ypres."

"One German airplane was driven down out of control yesterday. One of our machines is missing."

Italian Offensive Continues To Meet With Great Success

LONDON, May 16.—The Italians are keeping up their strong offensive against the Austrians along the Isonzo front, and have succeeded in capturing at various points, including the villages of Zagona and Zagonilla, and with great dash two mountain crests. The Austrians, apparently by surprise in the commencement of the offensive, now are striving their artillery and infantry to hold the Italians in check, but thus far, owing to the Rome war office, they have met with no success.
Prisoners to the number of 3,375, among them 95 officers, and guns, machine guns and war material, have been captured by the Italians.
Both in Mesopotamia and Macedonia successes for the allies are recorded. The latter theatre the British in the Lake Doiran region have captured yards of enemy trenches to a depth of 500 yards, and in the Struma sector on a front of trenches of 3,000 yards.

German Attacks Upon French Are Repulsed With Heavy Losses

PARIS, May 15.—Heavy German attacks in the Alsace sector have been repulsed with sanguinary losses, and where the Germans temporarily broke through they were driven out and the lost ground regained, according to the statement issued by the war office tonight. The text of the statement reads:

The Germans today continued their attacks in the regions to the north and northwest of Moulins-la-Marchais, as far as the railroad between Soissons and Reims. Despite the importance of the enemy offensives and the violence of the assaults, our troops inflicted a sanguinary check on their adversaries. At various points, where our line temporarily gave way, we carried out brilliant counter-attacks which enabled us to regain the lost ground.
The Germans suffered heavy losses in endeavoring to arrest our progress, and were broken by our barrages and the fire of our machine guns. About one hundred unarmoured prisoners remained in our hands as well as a number of wounded Germans, who were carried in ambulances.

IMPOSSIBLE AT PRESENT TIME TO TALK PEACE

Socialist Resolution In Parliament Is Voted Down Without Division.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 16.—The house of commons tonight, after application of closure, voted down without division a resolution proposed by Philip Snowden, Socialist, welcoming the repudiation by the Russian government of all proposals for imperialistic conquest and aggrandisement, and calling on the British government to issue a similar declaration on behalf of the British democracy.

The necessity of thus voting down the resolution was explained by Lord Robert Cecil, a technically, inasmuch as it presented an amendment to the consolidated fund bill, and expressions of regret, that the house should thus be compelled seemingly to slight Russian aspirations, were voiced by Lord Robert, former Premier Asquith and others, who declared their sympathy with Russia, but deprecated the British government's action in pacifist moving the resolution in such a manner as necessitated its rejection.

Lord Robert Cecil, on behalf of the government and Mr. Asquith, were emphatic in their statement that it was impossible at the present stage to enter into negotiations with Germany, and declared that the war aims of the entente allies as previously announced still held good.

INVESTIGATE B. C. SOLDIERS' PROHIB. VOTE

Premier Brewster Will Ask Commission To Investigate Charges.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
VICTORIA, B. C., May 17.—Late last night Premier Brewster made his announcement on the question of prohibition. He referred to the claims made on both sides charging and repelling charges of irregularity and to the fact that as yet the ballots and report from the agent-general's office in London have not reached this city.
Realizing the duty of the government to preserve the sanctity of the ballot, said the premier, the government had come to the decision to ask the Lieutenant-Governor to appoint a special commission to investigate the charges and report to an adjourned session of the house to convene not later than August 1, at which time action would be taken.

WAIT FOR IRISH LEADERS TO SAY WHAT THEY THINK

British Papers Have Little Comment On Premier's Proposal.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 17.—While neither Nationalists or Unionists were willing to discuss the home rule proposal, the morning papers have had an opportunity to express themselves. The morning papers have little comment, most of them professing a desire to withhold criticism until the matter has been fully discussed by the Nationalists. The Daily News, a staunch home ruler, alone indulges in prophecy and fears that the scheme is foredoomed owing to the exclusion of the six counties.

RETURNED SOLDIERS LEND EXCITEMENT

Premier Answers Arguments Made In Opposition Leader's Appeal.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
CALGARY, Alta., May 16.—The Liberal campaign was opened here tonight, when a mass meeting in the Grand Theatre was addressed by Premier Sifton, Mrs. Nellie McClung and W. M. Davidson, the candidate for North Calgary.

The excitement of the meeting was caused by a large number of returned soldiers, who had many questions to ask the speakers. The premier was particularly asked to answer questions on the subject of the election being held. He said the government had completed a course of five years as laid down in the constitution, and because for the past sixteen months the Conservative newspapers and politicians had been crying election. He reviewed the legislative work of the government, and said that the course of action would be maintained if returned to power.

The matter of the premier's refusal to see the veterans' delegation was explained when he said it had not approached him until after the close of the session. No notification of any kind on sufficient notice had ever been refused by him.

Have Right To Vote
Questioned about the disenfranchisement of alien voters, he emphatically replied that any voter not obtained before 1914, and doing and saying nothing detrimental to the country, had as good a right to cast a vote as anyone. Should they come under suspicion of being alien, in the future, and once under the jurisdiction of the military authorities if no action was taken by the government it was because they did not want to.

The enforcement of the liquor act brought another question. The act was said to be a technicality, inasmuch as it presented an amendment to the consolidated fund bill, and expressions of regret, that the house should thus be compelled seemingly to slight Russian aspirations, were voiced by Lord Robert, former Premier Asquith and others, who declared their sympathy with Russia, but deprecated the British government's action in pacifist moving the resolution in such a manner as necessitated its rejection.

Lord Robert Cecil, on behalf of the government and Mr. Asquith, were emphatic in their statement that it was impossible at the present stage to enter into negotiations with Germany, and declared that the war aims of the entente allies as previously announced still held good.

U-BOAT LOSSES ARE STEADILY GROWING LESS

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 16.—The weekly statement of British shipping losses as a result of attacks by submarines, which was published today, showed a steady falling off from previous weeks, only 23 vessels having been lost last week, as against 62, including two big vessels, announced the previous week.

She had a large number of troops with her, and was carrying a large amount of war material. The vessel was torpedoed by an enemy submarine in the eastern Mediterranean on April 15. Women's Suffrage is Discussed All Day In Dominion House

Principle Agreed To But Opinion Differs On Whether Provincial Enactments Give Dominion Powers—Pugsley Urges Parliament To Correct Anomaly—Laurier Thinks Provincial Law Gives Right, But Borden Disagrees—R. B. Bennett Ardent Suffragist Now.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, May 16.—The suffrage sitting of parliament today was given over to a discussion on the question of the desirability of extending the franchise to women. The debate was based upon a resolution moved by Donald Sutherland, South Oxford, stating that it was desirable that action should be taken to consider the matter this session.

Hon. William Pugsley discussed the matter from another angle and urged that steps be taken to make certain that in the provinces where women now have the right to vote at provincial elections they should be given a similar right at federal contests. He expressed the legal view that they have this right in Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia, but not in Alberta and Saskatchewan, because the Dominion elections act refers only to male voters.

NEIGHBORS TURN HAND TO HELP MRS. ARNOTT

Old Fashioned Bee Is Organized—Is Told News In Conscious Moments.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
ELK POINT, May 15.—In order that Mrs. E. L. Arnett in her conscious moments might be told that her farm crop which she had tried hard to put in, had all been secured, a good old fashioned neighborhood "Bee" was organized by the Elk Point farmers last Monday, when her friends and neighbors with eighteen teams all at work at once, plowed, harrowed and sowed about thirty acres to oats. The job was finished before night and the unfortunate farm woman, who nearly lost her life as a result of the runaway when she was trying to do her bit by discing the grain fields while the hired man was plowing and seeding, has now no worry on that score.

UNCLE SAM IS REALLY IN THE WAR AT LAST

American Torpedo Boat Actually Engaged Hun U-Boat.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
QUEENSTOWN, May 15.—A squadron of United States torpedo boat destroyers has safely crossed the Atlantic and is patrolling the seas in war service. The American navy's actual entry into the war zone has already been productive of a brush between a destroyer and a German underwater boat, according to an announcement by the British admiralty, but the result of it has not been made public.

The destroyer squadron arrived in Queenstown after an uneventful voyage across the Atlantic, but almost immediately after a formal exchange of greetings with the British naval officials put to sea again for the hard work that is before it. One of the American destroyers began duty even before reaching this side of the Atlantic. This was when it picked up one of the largest of the Atlantic liners. This action so pleased the British passengers on board that they sent a message of greeting and appreciation to the commander of the destroyer.

RADICAL PARTY IN POWER BETTER THAN DIVIDED

Reorganization of Russian Cabinet Makes For Greater Unity.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Reorganization of the Russian cabinet was regarded here both as increasing the power of the radicals and as making for greater unity. It is generally felt that the coming into power of the radical party is more desirable than a situation where the power is divided between radicals and moderates, with both practically powerless to act.

LLOYD GEORGE OUTLINES PLAN OF HOME RULE

Would Immediately Apply Home Rule, Excluding Ulster.

WANTS THE MATTER CONSIDERED SOON

Alternative Scheme Suggested For Irish Convention.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 16.—The British prime minister today sent a letter to John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, outlining the government's project for the settlement of the home rule question. He asked Mr. Redmond to state his views on the government's suggestion in order that the government may be able to consider the matter before Monday.

As soon as the premier's proposals were available, Mr. Redmond met to discuss the document. The Nationalists will hold a meeting on Thursday morning for the same purpose. The government's letter set forth, had been desirous of effecting an immediate settlement which will concede the largest possible measure of home rule, but that can be secured by agreement at this moment without prejudice to a further and final settlement of the most disputed questions after the war.

The government's proposals provide for the introduction of a bill for the immediate application of the home rule act to Ireland, but excluding the six counties of Northeast Ulster, such exclusion to be subject to reconsideration by parliament at the end of five years; a council of Ireland, to be composed of two delegations, representing the excluded area as well as the new Irish parliament; consideration of the bill after its second reading by a special conference, under the chairmanship of one commanding general confidence. It is suggested by the premier that a convention of Irishmen of all parties be assembled for the purpose of arranging a scheme of Irish self-government.

PAYMENTS FOR G.T.P. RAILS TO BE MADE UNDER WAR ACT

Cost of New Rails Would Have Been Less But Necessity Was Urgent.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, May 16.—In the house today Hon. Frank Cochrane stated in reply to the Hon. Frank Oliver that payments or allowances to be made to the Grand Trunk Pacific for rails taken from their tracks for use in France would be decided under the war-measures act and any loss consequent upon the removal of rails would be adjudicated by the court of exchequer.

Winning Rouex Result Of Most Tragic Fighting

Germans Taken by Surprise at Dusk as They Did Not Expect Attack on Outskirts Until Following Morning—Then It Was Discovered Town Was Lightly Held and Advantage Was Pushed With Success by British.

War Correspondents' Headquarters, Tuesday, May 15, via London, May 16.—There are some episodes of the way in which Rouex was taken a few nights ago which should be told and remembered, for the winning of this place was the result of many weeks of the most fierce and tragic fighting. At the end, the enemy was taken by surprise, not expecting another attack till morning, whereas, it happened in the evening at dusk. He may have thought there were not enough troops to attempt an assault at that time and the attack was not made in great strength.

Two hundred and fifty prisoners were taken in a quarry on the way to the chemical works, and some two hundred more in dugouts by the cemetery and chemical works, where they lay low under terrific bombardment of shrapnel, and intended to come up in three to get machine guns to work. Our men, however, were very quick behind the shrapnel, and escaped the machine gun emplacements—one of these had a concrete roof seven feet thick and there was a tunnel running west of the cemetery provided with a machine gun, which had given anxiety to our officers.

It was almost by accident that the village of Rouex itself was found to be so lightly held that it could be carried by assault next morning. After dusk some of our men lost their way from the cemetery and wandered off the track into the ruined streets of Rouex. There were some Irishmen among them, bold and reckless fellows, who were very quick to do the right thing in a tight corner, when, as they say, they were "on their own." They searched some dugouts, hauled out by good luck a group of staff officers belonging to the 32nd regiment, and a doctor. When one of these was brought down to our brigade headquarters, he said:

"Your men have taken Rouex. We were surprised. 'So are we,' said one of our officers. 'Rouex was not in our program today.'"

The doctor found his position rather obscure. He remained in his dugout for sometime, attending to British wounded brought down to him, and, according to these men, he labelled them for Berlin. It was quite a time before he realized that his patients were not German prisoners but that he was ours.

Novel Way To Raise Money For Royal Alexandra Hospital.

During the first of a series of noon day meetings for the purpose of increasing the membership of the Edmonton Hospitals Association, held Wednesday in All Saints school room, the announcement was made that 1,000 citizens are wanted who will contribute one dollar each as a membership fee. It was explained that the Royal Alexandra hospital is now greatly overtaxed for accommodation and therefore it is urgent that the west wing be finished as soon as possible.

Dr. J. S. Wright declared that no better hospital service can be obtained in the country than is given at this hospital. It has accommodation for 119 patients and has had a record of 153 in one day. The hospital is not as large as some in the eastern cities, he asserted, but the facilities for proper surgical treatment in the local hospital are the equal of any in Toronto or Montreal.

The chairman of the meeting was J. A. McDougall and in an address he referred to the suggestion that the hospital in Edmonton were run by a clique. He believed that the men in charge of hospital affairs were a credit to the city. The average cost last year per patient for one day was $2.04. The total number of patients last year was 224, which gives an average of 105 per day. He reported the receipt of a check from Archbishop Legal, to the amount of $200.

Although he said he was full of many other things besides hospitals just now, Mayor Henry declared himself heartily in sympathy with the movement for increased membership.

The temperature at noon Wednesday was 44 as compared with 61 for May 16th, 1916. At three o'clock this morning the temperature was 47.

THE DAILY POEM

SPRING SONG.

I hope there's Spring in Heaven—

And soil stirring everywhere,
And a fruit tree's blossoming;
Oh, when I get to Heaven I hope I'll find
The Spring.

And when I get to Heaven I shall leave
The golden street,
And the strange river flowing;
I shall try to find the way
To the meadows in the sky—
The cool, green places where the Lord comes by,
Where the garden as He walked in Paradise,
When men talked with Him and saw
Him with their eyes;
And I shall say:
"There do the dog-tooth violets grow?"
And He will show—I am sure that He will know!

The heavenly apothecary
Have radiant, scented bells,
And tall white lilies grow
And roses in the sky—
But I know that I shall be Homeless to smell and see
Sweet arbutus and the pale anemone.

When I get to Heaven
I want little, swollen streams,
And silver dripping gleams
Of hidden fountains shining in an April sun,
And little boy angels cutting whistles trembling air
With small, sharp calls
That will strike the jeweled walls
And echo, gleaming, streaming,
In a shrill melody.
Little boy angels, piping joyously,
Crying, "Spring! Spring! Spring!"

RUSSIAN FOREIGN MINISTER LEAVES CABINET; A NEW MEMBER CHOSEN

Provisional Government Refuses Proposal of Council of Workmen and Soldiers Delegates to Enter Council.

Petrograd, May 16, via London.—Paul M. Milukoff, minister of foreign affairs, has resigned, leaving the cabinet altogether. M. Terachtchenko, minister of finance, has been appointed foreign minister, and A. F. Kerensky, previously minister of justice, has been named minister of war and marine.

Having discussed the conditions under which representatives of the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates would consent to enter the cabinet, the provisional government decided today that it was unable to accept the first of these conditions. This called for the annunciation as a fundamental principle of a foreign policy openly pursuing the aim of reaching as soon as possible a general peace without annexations or indemnities, on the basis of the right of nations to work out their own destinies. The provisional government was unable to agree to such a principle because it did not consider possible any renunciation of principles set forth in its proclamation of April 9th. The provisional government further thinks it necessary to confirm the unity of all allied fronts, and insists on an energetic struggle against anarchy. To the financial and economic reforms mentioned by the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates the government raises no objections, regarding only as part of its task to realize such reforms. The executive committee of the duma has approved this decision of the government.

Macedonian Front

London, May 16.—An official statement issued on Monday by the Bulgarian war department at Sofia, after referring to artillery activity of varying intensity on the Macedonian front, says the offensive of the British, French and Russian and Italian forces having completely failed, the Serbians are now putting forth desperate but ineffective efforts to obtain some success, however small. The statement adds:

"Throughout the day and night (Sunday) there was desperate artillery firing. Simultaneously the Serbians repeatedly delivered attacks on the Macedonian front, which were repulsed on every occasion with heavy losses. Near Dobropolye and to the east their attacks cost them enormous losses. According to reports on the occasion of the repulse of the French from Jarebichka height the enemy experienced heavy losses. We counted 500 French corpses in front of our line."

Supreme Court

Before His Lordship Mr. Justice Ives.
Harry Macklenberg v. William A. Morgan. This is an action for damages, wherein the plaintiff claims $2000, general damages and special damages of $200. The plaintiff was discharged from custody and the action was dismissed. The plaintiff alleges he has been caused considerable annoyance, loss of time, and to a considerable extent loss of reputation. Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent. more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, dummies and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES, WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee leave the city on Wednesday for their ranch near Panoak for the summer.

Arranging for the work of the coming year was practically all the business transacted at the meeting of the Highlands Auxiliary of the W. M. S., which was held at the home of Mrs. H. J. Salgeon on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Shinneman sang sweetly during the intermission.

The regular business, including annual reports, was transacted at the monthly meeting of the Grace Auxiliary of the W. M. S., which was held on Tuesday afternoon in the church. There was a good attendance and the annual reports, from the Mission Band, Junior Circle, Little Light Bearers and the Associate Helpers were most satisfactory. Extensive plans were made for the work of the coming year. Mrs. Cooper was appointed superintendent of the Associate Helpers and Mrs. Galloway as pianist. Appointments were also made for the Watch Tower.

Mrs. Margaret McDonald arrives home on Thursday night.

Mrs. Pritchard, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Norquay, for some time, left Wednesday night for her home in Prince Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gowan are receiving congratulations over the birth of a daughter, who arrived on Tuesday afternoon.

The Western Rose Knitting Circle had its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. C. McArthur on Wednesday afternoon. The regular program was followed and the ladies flew in the grand work of knitting socks for the soldiers, the coming election was the chief topic of conversation. Afterwards tea was served.

Mr. W. J. Scott, father of Dr. Scott, a medical missionary in India, spoke at the Women's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Scott is supported by Westminster and Knox churches, and a report of his work, along with other missionary activities in India, such as Mr. Scott could give, was interesting to say the least. The ladies were very pleased to learn of the work being done in this branch of the many missionary fields and showed their appreciation to the speaker. Mrs. Frank Wrigley sang most acceptably during the meeting.

Owing to the bad weather the attendance of the Patriotic Circle of Westgrove and Jasper place was small, but very good notwithstanding. The regular program of knitting and afternoon tea was carried out and considerable work accomplished.

Mrs. Frank Wrigley and small son Francis arrived in the city on Monday night from Vancouver and will be the guests of Mrs. W. N. Collier. Mrs. Wrigley's sister will attend the musical festival.

On Saturday afternoon the British Navy Chapter I.O.D.E. are holding a silver tea at the Alberta College North, First street from 3 to 6 p.m. An excellent program has been arranged. The artists are E. M. Shildrick, baritone; Miss Jessie Cameron, soprano; and W. J. Hendra, tenor. Instrumental music will be furnished throughout the afternoon by Miss Cook, pupil of Wilbur Grant and Miss Allegra Howe, pupil of Miss Beatrice Crawford. The proceeds will go to the Prisoners of War Fund and the Y.C.A. at the front.

A gymkana will be given in the Assembly hall of the McKay avenue school on Thursday of this week at 8.15 p.m. The entertainment is under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian church and consists of dances by Mrs. Philott's various folk dancing classes and an excellent musical program. The dancing was put on for the Red Cross reason and will with great success. Those who had not the opportunity of witnessing the performance before have a treat in store.

Mrs. Stouton gave a very pleasing and interesting address Tuesday night at the Wesley Mission Circle meeting in the church parlors. It was a most successful social affair under the auspices of the Mission Circle Girls. After the opening exercises the girls sang a fine chorus number and Mrs. Stouton gave her talk on "Missionary work in Africa." There were a number of curios from Africa which created a great deal of interest. Mrs. White sang a charming song at the close and all were agreed that a profitable evening had been spent.

At the meeting of the West End W. C. T. U. on Wednesday afternoon, which was held at the home of Mrs. Anneton, Jasper avenue, Mrs. Wall, who presided, discussed the subject of holding a social affair at the home of Mrs. Wall, who presided recently at Lamont, gave a very full report of the convention. Among other things she explained ing a worker among the foreign citizens, who are to teach and educate these foreign citizens and to look after them and children as far as possible. Like their Canadian neighbors, for these women are often very ignorant on these points and are not familiar with the conditions such as the Canadian citizen enjoys and do not know how to rectify their condition. The women of the West End W. C. T. U. are very busy with their work and the regular business was attended to and the discussion of the agenda of the Local Council of Women took up the remaining allotted time.

"Up-to-Date" was the title of a play put on by the St. Joseph's Amateur Dramatic Club in the Separate School hall Tuesday evening, under the auspices of St. Joseph's Altar Society. Owing to other attractions the audience was quite small but appreciative. A musical program of some six or seven numbers was a pleasant addition. Miss Etta Manuel and Miss L. Marquis contributed delightful songs. Miss Kathleen Hart, a very young performer, gave the Highland fling and sword dance, in costume, decidedly well. Mr. B. McEwan with a remarkably fine baritone, sang several songs and received the heartiest of applause. Miss Nell McManara took the part of Anne Witherbee in the sketch and Mr. Harold Adams, Howard Witherbee, Anne's husband. Miss Kit Sharpe was very happy in the part of Pechon Blou, sample of average in the scientific management of home. Miss Bess Isaacson and Mr. Frank Kitchin, Kate Burton and Jim Coleman were very good.

There will be given tonight, at 8 o'clock, in the separate school hall, a play put on by the "Grande Soiree Canadienne" for the benefit of the French circulating library. The program will include an overture by the Pepin orchestra, "Les Femmes de Bon Louis D'Or" written specially for the occasion, in which Miss Elsie Martin (18 years old), Cecil Martin (10 years old), and Miss Marie (9 years old) will participate. A one-act operetta, "La Duchesse Anne," the cast of which includes Miss A. M. Sylvester, Blanche Pepin, A. Pomeroy, M. E. J. Martin, Y. Sylvester and Alphonse, played by Madame Rodrigue, Miss Y. Sylvester and Alphonse. During the intermission the Martin children will give several numbers for English speaking patrons.

To the Editor of the Woman's Page.

Dear Madam: What will clean your clothes lines so that they will not mark the clothes? They are most carefully wiped before clothes are put on and have been scoured with Old Dutch, still some of the articles come off the lines with black marks across them. Have you used one season what will sweeten a rain barrel which smells sour?

Mrs. F. C. R.

You have done all that you can to the wire line, and as you say it is comparatively new there is apparently no remedy unless it is something in the soap or washing solution used. Make sure the clothes are well rinsed and blued with cold water.

One remedy for the rain barrel is to expose it to the sun, after the water has been turned out, as long as possible. Light, and especially hot sunlight, is the finest of purifiers.

To the Editor of the Woman's Page.

Dear Madam: Do you ever sponge the leaves of your rubber plant with water? I have done so and it keeps the leaves glossy and in good condition. It is not necessary to use whole milk; skimmed or separated milk will do, either sweet or sour, and of course, is cheaper. This is worth trying.

On coming in from the street shake the dust well out of clothes before hanging them away, otherwise the dust particles seem to draw into the material and makes it harder to remove later. If there are any mud splashes allow them to dry, before attempting to remove. There will be less wear and tear on the material with the necessary rubbing.

After a walk in the rain it is a good plan to lay your boots on their sides in order that the air may get to their wettest parts. If you have no boot trees, stuff the boots with dry newspaper. This keeps them in shape and the boots will wear much longer than otherwise.

New shoes often feel uncomfortably tight, even when we know the size to be correct. They press on our feet, and all this because the boot does not conform in detail to the contour of the foot. Here is the remedy, so simple, too: Pour hot water into the boot and allow it to remain there for about three minutes; pour out and don the boot while still hot. Allow to dry on your foot and your foot will thereafter take comfort in it.

Often one feels a provoking itching in the feet and toes after baring them, especially after standing much on the feet. To allay and remedy this, bathe with boracic acid solution, then rub in a bit of olive oil. After all one cannot take too good care of the feet, for they are among our most valuable members, and to abuse them as we often do is unwise as well as wrong and sure to bring punishment in some form, as colds, pneumonia, etc. from wet feet; flat foot, varicose veins, etc., from broken down, ill-fitting boots, and muscular rheumatism from the persistent wearing of low shoes or slippers with thin soles and high heels, with no other protection for their ankles than thin hose. All very well in warm, sunny weather, but when the pavements, etc., are cold and damp, wear sturdy boots that protect your ankles. If you value health,

"RED TRIANGLE" TEA AT HUDSONIA WAS VERY BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Crowds of People Braved Elements To Attend Interesting Social Event—"The Day Out" and "The Canteen," As Well As Collection of Curious Proved To Be Centres of Interest—Audience Delighted by Entertainment Provided by Talented Young Artists.

Through the rain crowds of people hurried to the Hudsonia Bay on Wednesday afternoon, where, under the auspices of the Hudsonia Y. M. C. A., the finest entertainment of the season ever given in Edmonton was successfully carried out. From 3 to 6 p.m. every available space was arranged for the entertainment. The unlimited pains which were taken to assist in making it not only a red triangle but a red letter day for all concerned. The success was also due to Mr. Geo. Gowan, chairman; Mrs. Henry, who was in charge of the tea rooms; Mrs. Matheson, canteen; Mrs. Hyndman, Mr. E. J. Hendra, Sheldon, who were having the children so unconsciously showing how much they enjoyed the treat.

The announcement is made that the dig-out and canteen will be continued for the rest of the week every afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. and on Saturday night, for the benefit of those who could not attend before.

Many little groups were formed and tables reserved for "parties." His Honor and Mr. Pace entertained the eight young performers and were advised by all for the "lovely time" they were having, the children so unconsciously showing how much they enjoyed the treat.

The announcement is made that the dig-out and canteen will be continued for the rest of the week every afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. and on Saturday night, for the benefit of those who could not attend before.

Tea was then announced, and the crowd dispersed throughout the rooms arranged with tables for afternoon tea. Those pouring tea and coffee for the first hour were: Mrs. Bulvey, Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. R. Lee, Mrs. Cammiff, Mrs. Gamble, Mrs. Rockland, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Long, Mrs. McGrath, Mrs. Christie. From 5 to 6 were: Mrs. Riddle, Mrs. Quavie, Mrs. McKendle, Mrs. Ash, Mrs. Holgate, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. James Ramsey, Mrs. Shildrick. The menu cards were most appropriate, being in the shape of a triangle, and the choice of the abundance of youthful talent, and the excellent way in which the songs and dances in costume, the Highland Fling, the Irish Lilt, the Irish Dance, the Dance, the Dance and many other delightful things were so gracefully and beautifully done. Mrs. J. D. Hyndman arranged this part of the program, which was a most decided success in every way.

Mrs. J. D. Hyndman arranged this part of the program, which was a most decided success in every way.

Emerging, one came into what is ordinarily used as the "balm room," to find a show case of curios from the front, most interesting, as here people lined up and were told all about the things which were displayed by Capt. Pinder, Lieut. Thieme, and Sgt. Irwin. The canteen offered books, pencils, candy, gum, cigars, cigarettes, soft drinks, and the most gorgeous roses and cut flowers. Mrs. Stuart Matheson was in charge, and her help of workers included: Mrs. Harold Van Allen, Miss Edna Moore, Miss Ross, Miss Irma Blackett, and Miss Marjorie Poucher.

During all this a string orchestra in the rear room was playing most engagingly the very latest of music under the direction of Mr. Vernon Bar-

James Ramsey Employees Hold Fine Concert

Big Crowd Present at Enjoyable Entertainment in Veterans Club Rooms

The employees of James Ramsey, Ltd., gave a delightful concert and dance at the club rooms of the Returned Veterans' association, in the Empire block last night. A big crowd turned out to witness the jolly good times which were enjoyed until far into the morning hours. The entertainment program opened with the singing of "O Canada" by all present. Percy Abbott then made a capital speech in which he dwelt upon what the soldiers had done for the country and pointed out what a tremendous and, in fact, irreplaceable influence the association would be for good when the war was over and three or four hundred thousand veterans returned to swell its numbers.

Miss Jean Norrell and Miss Hazel Yuill gave a piano duet "Qui Vive" in a spirited manner after which Mr. Jones convulsed his hearers with a hilarious farce and instrumental mimicry. Miss Syka sang "One Fleeting Hour" with good effect and Frank Rowed rendered the ever-popular "Homes and Gardens," so well that he earned a tremendous burst of applause. Mr. Jones concluded the program with some female impersonations that "took" remarkably well.

The remainder of the evening was then devoted to dancing by the younger element and cards by the more mature. Pepin's orchestra furnished acceptable music for the dancing, and the refreshments were appreciated by all. It was a most successful occasion in every particular.

Metropolitan Methodist W.M.S.

The regular meeting of the W.M.S. of Metropolitan church will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The new officers are to be in their places. All the women of the congregation are invited to come and give their assistance in the work of the society for the new year.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

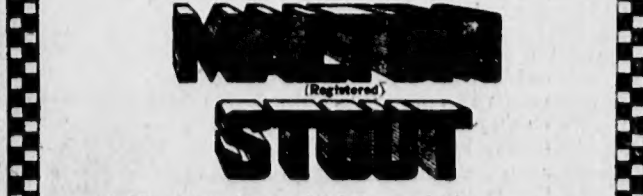

Don't use prepared shampoo anything else, that contains a harsh alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Plain mulled cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is better than the most expensive soap anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoon will make an abundance of lather, which cleanses the scalp thoroughly. The latter rubs out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and brightly, fluffy and smooth.

You can get mulled cocoon oil at most drug stores. It is cheap and a few ounces is equal to everyone in the family for use.

Was Anaemic
For Over a Year.

Anaemia, or blood turning to water, is caused by the heart becoming diseased, and if the heart becomes diseased it cannot pump the blood as it should. As a result the blood becomes impoverished, and it loses its nourishing qualities. The face becomes pale and thin, and the bloodless. There is a weakness, tiredness and loss of weight.

When those suffering from thin or watery blood start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they can see a change from the outset.

Every dose introduces into the blood those vital elements necessary to make it rich and red. The pale cheeks take on the rosy hue of health, the weight increases, and the whole being thrills with a new life.

Mrs. R. J. Grey, Fredericton, N.B., writes: "When I was a girl working at general house work I overtaxed my strength and became completely run down. For over a year I was very bad with anaemia. A friend told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I got a box and when it was done I felt much better. When I had taken them I had gained not only in strength, but in flesh and color, and best of all was good health."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box; three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Kernels of Rural NewsPRODUCED MORE WHEAT.

Considerable grain from the harvest: remains to be shipped from this district, and in consequence the total amount to be shipped cannot yet be stated. The total shipped to date is already in excess of the 1915 harvest. It is gratifying to note that despite the lower yield per acre in 1915 Chaurin farmers produced more than their usual share of the wheat which is no small feat, not alone to their profit, but for urgent need of the empire.—Chaurin Chronicle.

Mr. Patterson intends leaving for Missouri at an early date.—Wetaskiwin Free Press.

Two golden eagles were bagged recently by two sons of W. J. Hawkins. One was shot with a rifle and was mutilated so badly that it will not be mounted. The other was caught in a trap and is still alive. A hawk has been hanging around in the neighborhood, and they expect to land it also. The golden eagle is a rare species in this country.—Strome Despatch.

Winnipeg, May 16.—At a special meeting of the council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange a resolution was passed prohibiting "all buying in October wheat except in liquidation of existing contracts." The resolution went on to say:

"Members may enter into contract of sale without limitation except as to price, the maximum being $2.45, a bushel. Any member buying except for liquidation of existing contracts will be subject to a charge of uncommercial conduct under the by-laws of the exchange."

This resolution extends the prohibitions against October wheat which otherwise would have expired this morning.

THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1917.

Marshal Joffre told Montrealese and more men to the front if want to win the war. It is hoped his words were audibly Ottawa.

The night licenses of New York have been cancelled. And all accounts if New York can long without booze from midtown to dawn it would hardly be the rest of the time.

The Journal thinks the Legislature did a great wrong in not anchoring the people of the province until the end of the war, who made the members of the Legislature the judges as to whether or not responsible government should be suspended in province?

The Opposition had their way when the women of Alberta would have presentation in the Legislature until the close of the war—fore no say in the settlement of problems arising out of war, and no voice in shaping policy and measures to with foreseeable conditions must arise when the war is to an end.

The "cow bill" passed at the session of the Legislature is any sense a local measure, opportunities are open to all in all parts of the province and its benefits will be apt everywhere in proportion to opportunities are utilized. Conditions make the advancement of the Act peculiarly well to homesteaders in the north-western districts, in the development sections of this part of the province with forests and brush, he has so arranged it that a man with moderate means cannot lead with advantage in these unless he has or can get live stock at an early stage operations. It takes years to clear the land and grow crops and make grain growing on a brushy quarter see.

But there is pasture, and best of pasture, on a brushy section. If the homesteader is unable to turn this waste into dairy products and his progress must be slow, conditions of his family hard, the community denied for the benefit which would accrue from his presence and labor. But if at the beginning of things he can secure a few cows to turn his waste into account the whole situation is reversed; the conditions are reversed; the conditions of the family are approved, the process of clearing the vacant quarter into a live farm and an attractive is hastened, and the community at once begins to receive from his enterprise.

There would be no scarcity of beef if the grass which goes to every year north of the chevron river were consumed. The "cow bill" will directly and tremendously about that most desirable life easier for thousands of us on uncleared homesteads, due the settlement of disinheritance passed by because suitable for grain farming, will convert a waste resource country into badly needed.

As defined by their newspaper friends, the view of Mr. Michener and his associates is that it was all right to give women the right to vote, but they should not be given a chance to exercise it.

Opposition papers denounce the holding of the provincial election with an amplitude of language and an absence of argument which disclose that their real objection to an election now is that they do not think they can win.

There are two good reasons for the return of the Sifton Government. One is that the Government has originated a great deal of useful and progressive legislation and has given a pretty good administration of public business. The other is that to defeat the Sifton Government would be to replace it by a Government composed of men who have not shown any talent for doing as well.

Herbert C. Hoover, who organized the American relief measures in Belgium, and who is spoken of as liable to be appointed food dictator of the United States, says that by regulation the price of flour can be cut in half without doing injustice to the producer. His record in Belgium entitles him to the supposition that he knows what he is talking about. As there is no reason to suppose conditions in Canada are radically different from conditions in the United States, his statement should help to give impetus to the demand for Government regulation of food and food prices in Canada.

The Factories' Act is intended to enable employees of factories and shops in this province to get enough wages to support themselves honorably and in comfort. That end cannot be attained by a Factory Act alone. The outgo has to be dealt with as well as the income before the wage-earner can be assured a decent living in Canada. If the income of everyone in the country was doubled under present conditions the price-boosters could be depended upon to hoist prices and take the difference, leaving the public struggling to make ends meet, just as they are now. Dominion regulation of food prices is the necessary complement of minimum wage scales, if the wage earners are to secure a fair living.

Canada is a rich country, but it is not rich enough to sustain an army of fighters at the front and an army of idlers and time-wasters at home. The physical and mental energy of every man in the Dominion is needed for the united pull which alone can take the country over the crisis. The man who is voluntarily idling is robbing the country of brain and muscle power it needs and is entitled to. The one who is idle because he can't find work he is able to do is being robbed of the chance to serve his country, by the lack of means which ought to exist to bring the worker and the work into contact. The National Service system was supposed to both spur up the loafer and bring the unwilling idler into contact with the job he can take. The signs are not abundant that it is doing either with the degree of energy that is called for.

As the train neared the city the colored porter approached the jovial-faced gentleman, saying with a smile: "Shall I brush you off, sah?" "No," he replied, "I prefer to get off in the usual manner."

Bittersweet
"Am I good enough or you?" sighed the fond lover.
"No," said the girl, candidly, "you're not, but you are too good for any other girl."—New York Times.

New Way to Get Recruits

From the Montreal Star.
The United States are a peculiar people. At Escanaba, Mich., a recruiting officer for the army secured five German recruits by first singing "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Maces Not Always Peaceful

From London Daily Chronicle.
The mace which the Canadian Prime Minister has received from the Lord Mayor for the Canadian House of Commons is of gold. But when the mace had sterner uses it was made of harder material. Milton speaks of "Deaths' mace, petrific," Chaucer of "mace of steel," and it was with one of iron that Walworth laid low Wat Tyler. Iron maces, too, were used by the Turks in their wars of the dark ages. When the mace passed from being a weapon of war to a mere emblem of authority its intrinsic value increased, for it was first made of copper, then of silver, often richly gilt and now of the most precious metal of all.

Avoiding the Path to Ruin

From the Manitoba Free Press.
The New York Times, a newspaper whose views command respect everywhere, sees in the present provisional government of Russia the best chance for the future of that new republic. "There are strong tendencies in the government," says the Times, which adds: "If these men cannot save Russia and help her to establish a permanent government of the people, a government that will insure the happiness and prosperity of the people, the will be hard to say who can perform that service for her. A success of the Radicals leads straight to ruin. The Allies and all true friends of Russian freedom will pray that the provisional government may maintain its authority against enemies from within and from without."

The Crowning Barbarity

From Boston Transcript.
Now in the history of the world has a conquering or a defeated force shown such malignity of destruction. It never occurred to Sioux or Apache Indians to destroy even the earth over which they trod. This is the crowning barbarity of the history of war, the Germans outside the pale of civilized warfare. The whole hideous proceeding, which has been accompanied by the shipment of the able-bodied population of the abandoned French territory, including young girls, to Germany, indicates a movement of desperation; it betrays all expectation of ever again putting a German foot on the abandoned soil; on that soil which no longer, but an abominable waste, and desolation that suggests the floor of hell more than it does the fair fields of France.

A Job for Every Man

From New York Sun.
It is already conceded that out of this war will undoubtedly proceed a more general recognition of the power of the State to organize industry and to supervise, even conduct it for the good of all. England, for example, in which for ages the greatest wealth and luxury has existed side by side with the most miserable poverty and squalor, is never going back to her traditional policy of laissez faire. A nation able to support five million men in the field, care for their dependents at home, see that its industries are so organized that there is a job for every man and a man for every job, and that the man does the job and the job supports the man, is not going back to the days of longshoremen's strikes and out of work parades.

Wanted—Minister of Shipping

From Toronto Telegram.
Canada will have a ship production of $200,000,000 in a year, if the Borden government rises to the occasion and puts a Minister of Shipping on the job, not to play party game, but to PRACTICE PATRIOTISM. The machine shops of Ontario and Quebec can turn out marine boilers built to a standard just as Ford cars are turned out. Canada's limit on the production of wooden ships, or steel ships, is defined by the limits of Canada's labor supply. Conscription and withdrawal of men from non-essential industries will surely enable Canada to assemble 45,000 workers to turn out 300 wooden ships a year, beginning on Dominion Day, 1918, these ships to be the output of industries now in operation, but of new yards to be established.

navigator and discoverer of the type the city is delighted to honor. When he went poleward with his brave little company the war had just begun. None imagined its formidable character of its long duration, and the journey had the express sanction of the King, whom the explorer consulted as to his duty in the premises. After the expedition came to grief Sir Ernest stuck to the task of rescuing his men, and his repeated voyages in the attempt over the pitiless seas between Cape Horn and the eternal ice barrier bristled with heroic incidents which it renews one's pride in the Anglo-Saxon heritage to realize. His duty as a single one of the invincible ships of the Royal Navy to the dangers of the submarine. And when the whole story of the war is told, the part played by Admiral de Chair and his men will be found to have contributed in by no means the least degree to whatever success the Allies may attain.

Admiral de Chair

From Christian Science Monitor.

The third member of the party is Rear Admiral Sir Dudley de Chair, one of the most distinguished officers in the navy. It was Admiral de Chair who, month after month, as commander of a flagship in the shape of a Cunard liner, with a fleet made up of liners and trawlers, maintained that wonderful blockade which, month after month, prevented a single merchant ship from escaping from a German port, or any ship at all from carrying to any port goods intended for Germany. It was a wonderful achievement, carried out perfectly, and a crowning necessity of exposing a single one of the invincible ships of the Royal Navy to the dangers of the submarine. And when the whole story of the war is told, the part played by Admiral de Chair and his men will be found to have contributed in by no means the least degree to whatever success the Allies may attain.

MIXED

Dedicated to the Senior Chaplain, Bramshott Division.

A soldier of the C.E.F. was lying out in France. And as he lay, he cast around a wild and wondering glance at the sky. And then, in great bewilderment, he scratched his muddy head. And softly muttered to himself, and this is what he said:—

When first I joined the Canadians, I was in Sam Hughes' Own. Ten hundred gallant fighting men; a regiment full blown. We had our brass and pipes' band, and buglers twenty-three. The third day of fighting men that ever crossed the sea."

'Twas thus the General spoke to us "To go over as a Unit" to the sunny land of France. But scarcely had we heard his words and at his humor laughed. When came the word "Go" will go forward as a Draft."

I came across the ocean on the great Olympian. And hardly had I stepped ashore when other shifts began. They sent me to the 46th, and then the 23rd. And promised each "to go to France" "on their sacred word."

But each in turn was broken up, amidst the Colonel's tears, and so I joined the 51st, and then the Grenadiers.

My father was a Frenchman and my mother was a Mick. So later when I donned the kilts they nearly made me sick. I scarcely was a Highlander the matter of a day. When they took me and attached me to the blooming C.E.F. The engineers, the Engineers, and then the 23rd. I'm darned if I know what I was, nor where I ought to be.

Now I've been here for near a year, an expert with a bomb. For the Hun to see my number, he will sure be using some. But if the thing should happen, it will make the fellows laugh. To read upon my tombstone this poetic epitaph:

Here lies at rest the body of our friend poor John Canuck. A Private, Trencher, Sapper, a bomb devil out of luck. Of the Pioneers, the Grenadiers C. G. C. A. V. C. And a dozen other letters, but he doesn't care a D—.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

Uncle Wiggily on Guard

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the nice rabbit gentleman, was walking one day, looking as he often did, for an adventure, when, all of a sudden, as he came to a little place in the woods where green grass grew with trees all around him he heard a voice calling: "Hallo! Wiggily, come here!"

"A friend," came the answer.

"Advance, friend, and give the counter-signal."

"Lollypops and sassafras drops," said the voice.

"That's right, and I wish I had some," said the first voice with a laugh, and peering through the bushes, Uncle Wiggily saw Jackie and Peetle Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, walking around with broomsticks over their shoulders, in front of a little tent.

"Hallo Lollypops and sassafras drops, eh?" cried Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "What does this mean?"

"Oh, we're playing war, and I'm a sentry on guard," said Jackie. "I let no one go past unless they tell me the secret word, or counter-signal, and today it's lollypops and sassafras drops."

"Oh, I see," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "And do you go guard duty at night, too?"

"Oh, yes," answered Peetle, as he made believe shoot a bear with his broomstick gun. "And tonight Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, and some of the other animal boys, are going to stay in the tent as guards."

"Yes, and I think I'll stay myself," said Uncle Wiggily. "I want to learn to be a soldier, and I have a tent and a broomstick gun. I sleep in it. Everything would have been alright if the wind hadn't blown so hard. But the mud-turtles came and sat on the edges of my tent and held it from blowing away. It's alright now, though, but I'm coming and help be on guard tonight."

"That will be fine!" barked the puppy dog boys.

So that night, telling Nurse Jane Wuzzy not to sit up for him, as he would not be home until morning, Uncle Wiggily left his hollow stump lair and went to the tent put up by the animal boys in the woods.

"Now I'm ready to be on guard!" said the rabbit gentleman.

"All right," answered Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy. "You must put your gun over your shoulder, and march up and down in the dark. And if any one comes along and doesn't answer 'Cherry pie and cheese sticks,' when you ask for the password, you must fire off your gun."

"I will," said Uncle Wiggily, and then with a broomstick over his shoulder, he marched up and down in front of the tent he had made like a soldier. He was, when, all at once, he heard in the bushes some whispering.

"We'll lay a little trick on Uncle Wiggily," said Johnnie Bushytail. "We'll creep off in the darkness and come toward the tent. He'll hear us and think we are the mosquito relays. Then he'll tell us to halt, or stop, and we won't, but we'll run right toward him! We'll scare him and take his gun away and he'll think it is real war."

"Fine!" cried Billie. "But maybe he'll shoot us with the gun he has."

"He can't!" laughed Johnnie. "It's only a broomstick!"

So the two squirrel boys got ready to play the little trick on Uncle Wiggily, and when the mosquito relays, Jollie Longtail, the mouse chap, and the other make-believe soldier boys animals waited for the fun.

"Hallo! So they are going to play a trick on me when I'm on guard!" thought Uncle Wiggily as he walked up and down in front of the tent in the darkness. "Well, I must see about this," and he smiled so that his pink nose twinkled like a new dishpan from the two-cent store.

A little later, as Uncle Wiggily was still walking up and down on guard, keeping his ears open for any sound of the buzzing of mosquitoes, he suddenly heard a crackling in the bushes, and he saw something scolding along.

"Hallo!" cried Uncle Wiggily, just like a soldier on guard. "Who goes there?" Advance and say: 'Cherry pie and cheese sticks,' or I shall have to shoot off my gun!"

"Hallo! We're afraid of you!" cried Billie Bushytail, making his voice sound deep and hoarse by holding a small stone in his mouth. "Come on, fellow soldiers! Let's march in the dark. We'll capture this sentry on guard!"

Then Billie and Johnnie made a rush in the darkness toward Uncle Wiggily for they wanted to make believe scare him and take his broomstick gun away.

him and take his broomstick gun away.

"Rush at him now!" cried Billie. "Rush at him!" answered Johnnie. "Then, all of a sudden a bright light flashed, and Johnnie cried: 'Ouch!'"

And Billie cried: "Ouch!"

"Oh, did I hit any one with my bean shooter gun?" asked Uncle Wiggily in make-believe surprise as he held up his electric flash light which made the woods as bright as day. "Did I hit any one?"

"Something hit me on the nose!" said Billie.

"And me, too!" added Johnnie.

"Oh, I must have been the hard beans I blew from my shooter," said the bunny gentleman, sort of laughing, blinking his eyes and twinkling his pink nose in the darkness. "You wouldn't be much good against mosquitoes, so when I came on guard tonight I brought with me a bean shooter and when you made a noise just then I shot."

"Yes, we know you did," said Johnnie, rubbing his sore nose, and Billie rubbed his sore nose, and Uncle Wiggily said a word about having heard them plan the little trick on him.

So he stayed on guard the rest of the night, and no mosquitoes bothered him. And if the lollypop doesn't take its stick to tickle the circus balloon and make it burst, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily being caught.

Today We Celebrate

Alexandra of Fife

The eldest daughter of the Duke of Fife today celebrates her 28th birthday. At the present time there are no particular festivities connected with the event, for the women friends of Alexandra are too busy with the serious work of the war to leave the men of her circle of friends and acquaintances at the front.

By the death of the Duke of Fife the title passed to Alexandra, who became the Duchess of Fife in her own right. A curious story is behind this. When the duke was granted his latest title, that of Earl of Angus, and Duke of Fife in the peerage of the United Kingdom, on April 24, 1890, it was with special remainder in the event of default of male issue to his first and only daughter, by Princess Louise and their male issue Princess Alexandra thus became Duchess of Fife in succession to her father, while, in the event of her being no male issue to her marriage, the title descends to her sister, Princess Maud, born in 1893.

The Death of Heloise

Today is the anniversary of the death of Heloise, whose love for Abelard stands for all times as the type of noble, self-sacrificing devotion. Born in 1101, little Heloise lived a life, except that she was brought up by her uncle, a canon who gave her the best education that the age afforded. It is said that she spoke Latin as well as her own language, which was French. Heloise was beautiful besides being brilliant, and at the age of 18 drew around her a circle of the most brilliant scholars of Paris. Among those who were attracted to her were the poet and logician, Peter Abelard, a man of middle age, noble birth and commanding person. He was completely fascinated by her. The two young people returned his love and they were secretly married. When their love became known and Abelard, in defiance of the church, married his own marriage, Heloise forbade him. His reputation and interests were dearer to her than her own fair name and to them she sacrificed. She fled to the convent of Paraclete, there for forty years to dream of her love, consoled by the letters of Abelard. When he died his body was secretly conveyed to the convent and buried in his vaults. Twenty years later, on May 17, 1164, Heloise was buried beside him. She died as a nun in the cemetery of Perre la Chaise in Paris, where now they rest, a beautiful monument rises above them. Her grave has been the shrine of lovers to worship at for many centuries.

Famous Women

Catherine of Russia

To rise from the station of a peasant girl to that of Empress, the romantic dream of perhaps millions of peasant girls and has been for centuries. It is only once in a thousand years, however, that such a dream comes true. It did come true in the case of Catherine of Russia, who died May 17, 1797. She was the daughter of a peasant of Livonia, who married a Swedish Dragoon. The latter was killed in battle on the day of his wedding. Catherine came to the attention of the Russian general, Bauer, who made her his mistress. Then, one day, along came Prince Menshikov and was at once captivated by her. She transferred her affections to him, thus rising another step. All this happened before her seventeenth year. When she had nearly reached the age of seventeen Peter the Great, emperor of Russia, made her his mistress. Later he married her and presented her with the diadem and sceptre. After his death she was proclaimed empress of all the Russias and showed herself worthy of her high fortune.

Today's Anniversaries

On May 17, 1877 Grant started on his famous trip around the world. The great soldier had become known in every land and his military prowess had been the subject of so much discussion for so many years that it is no wonder his trip was more like a triumphal procession than a mere visit to foreign lands.

1637—Marquette and Joliet started to explore the Mississippi valley.

1689—Beginning of King William's war, which lasted eight years.

1757—First commencement of the college in Philadelphia, afterward the University of Philadelphia.

1838—Pennsylvania Hall in Philadelphia, dedicated as an abolition hall, burned by a mob.
